Connected Voices Launches: A Platform Amplifying Industry Voices

New multimedia initiative brings together bold voices to shape the future of industry

Columbia, SC September 9, 2025 — Connected Voices, a dynamic new platform dedicated to amplifying thought leadership across industries, officially launches today. Rooted in the belief that a rising tide lifts all boats, Connected Voices is built-on innovators, storytellers, and disruptors committed to raising the volume on the most pressing topics shaping our world.

Connected Voices Platform is a trailblazing movement of voices. It's based on the proverb that a "rising tide lifts all boats." That's why together we are raising the volume to be heard on the most important topics shaping society and industry across a multitude of sectors.

Through bold podcasts and videos, we highlight innovators, leaders, disruptors, and forward-thinking voices who look beyond today and seek what is on the horizon.

Connected Voices amplifies video and audio voices whether you are an individual seeking to share ideas on growth or a business driving transformation, this is a platform to connect, learn, lead, and transform.

"I'm incredibly proud to welcome these industry leaders to the Connected Voices platform. Each of them brings expertise, coupled with a real passion for raising impact in their field of interest. Their voices continue to shape many conversations in technology, industry, and beyond—and now, they're helping build a space to build recognition and community. This is more than content—it's leadership in action," says Peggy Smedley, founder, Connected Voices.

We share the mic with the best names in the B2B community and even professionals in some of the most interesting storytellers in the B2C world. We are helping professionals who are refining the skills necessary for the Future of Work and so much more.

Our platform is setting trends in podcasting. And just as important, it features the videos that are going beyond what is happening today and encouraging us all to look for what is next. Here's a few you can expect:
